Publisher's Note

Simpler spellings used are strongly recommended for general adoption by both American and English filologic associations, including nearly all prominent scholars in English now living. We regret prejudices which certain readers will feel against these changes, but after careful study of all objections urged, we find the weight of scholarship and reason wholly in their favor, and feel compelled to bear a share of the prejudices which some must endure before the great benefits of a rational orthography can be secured.

Abridged Decimal Classification<sup>1</sup>

EXPLANATION

Before beginning to use the classification read carefully at least the paragraphs in large type. The smaller type gives still farther information.

THIS abridgment is to meet a strong demand for a very simple form for small libraries. Even they are likely to have a few books or pamphlets on limited topics found only in the fullest tables, which aim to provide for all subjects treated in books, pamphlets, or articles. As minor subjects differ in each library, obviously no condensed or selective classification can meet every want of even small collections. A library needing subdivisions for its specialty should ask the publishers for a fuller table of that subject.

Change from short to full form These short forms can be changed to full class numbers at any time without other alteration than adding extra figures to those here given.

Plan This classification divides the field of knowledge into 9 main classes, numbered 1 to 9. Cyclopedias, periodicals, etc. so general as to belong to no one of these classes, are marked 0 (naught) and form a 10th class. Each class is similarly separated into 9 divisions, general works belonging to no division having 0 in place of the division number. Divisions are similarly divided into 9 sections. Thus 512 means class 5 Natural science, division 1 Mathematics, section 2 Algebra, and every algebra

<sup>1</sup> The confusion and annoyance to the many users of this system caused by printing unauthorized variations have forced the publishers to insist strictly on the protection afforded by copyright. Every library and individual user has, however, entire freedom to make such variations as he thinks he needs, under the simple restrictions found necessary to protect the rights of others as on page 10, Letter notations for changes.

is numberd 512. Its class number, giving class, division and section, is applied to every book and pamphlet in the library.

Where 0 occurs in a class number, it has its usual numeric value. Thus a book numberd 510 is class 5, division 1, but no section; i. e. the book treats of division 51 (Mathematics) in general, and is limited to no one section, while geometry, which is so limited, is markt 513; 500 indicates a treatis on science in general, limited to no division or section. A number beginning with 0 means 'not limited to any class'; e. g. a general cyclopaedia treating of all 9 classes.

Books ar arranged on the shelvs in simple numeric order. Since each number means a definit subject, all books on any subject must stand together. These tables show the order of subjects. Thus 512 Algebra precedes 513 Geometry, and follows 511 Arithmetic.

Summaries The first page of tables shows the 10 classes into which all topics ar divided. The next page shows the 9 divisions of each of the 10 classes, and is useful as a birdseye view of the whole scheme.

Tables Following these 2 summaries ar the annotated tables which repeat in proper order all the classes, divisions, sections, and subsections, if any. Synonymous terms, examples, brief notes, and various catchwords ar often added to the simple heds to giv users a fuller and clearer idea of the field which each number covers.

Relativ subject index Following the tables is the most important feature of the system, an alfabetic index of all the heds, which refers by class number to the exact place of each in the tables.

What the relativ index includes This index includes also, as far as found, all synonyms or alternativ names for the heds, and many other entries likely to help a reader find his subject redily. Even a user who knows just where to turn to his subject in the tables, if he consults the index, may be put on track of valuable allied matter which he would otherwise overlook.

Most names of countries, towns, animals, plants, etc. hav been omitted, the Index containing only those in the tables; e. g. it can not enumerate all species of articulates, but when the classifier has found from the proper reference books that Remopleurides is a fossil articulate, the index will send him to 565 and he can classify his monograf on that subject.

Relativ location By relativ location and decimal class numbers, the simple arabic numbers tel of each book and pamflet, both what it is, and where it is.

Books ar arranged on the shelvs by class numbers in decimal numeric order. Books on the same subject and therefore having the same class number always stand together, but ar farther arranged alfabeticly by authors' surnames; e. g. United States histories ar all 973, but Bancroft, Eggleston, McMasters and Wilson would stand in this order. (See also p. 9, Book numbers) Shelvs need not be markt, but the beginning of each subject is shown by a bold class number on a movable carrier just under or before the first book bearing that number.

Sizes on shelvs Shelv octavos and all smaller books together in one series, and arrange in parallel libraries only quartos and folios, which ar too tall for the regular shelvs. A size letter preftx to the book number shows the series in which any oversize book is put; e. g. 749 qB shows that book B on Artistic furniture is too large for the regular shelvs, so is placed in the 'q' or quarto series. Another way is to use a wood or pasteboard dummy to show location of a book not in its regular place.

Suggestions to users

In referring to tables, hold the book in the right hand and turn with the left. The class numbers then show very plainly on the left margin and reference is greatly expedited. But however the book is held, the eye should follow the left margins wholly.

How many figures to use In very small collections 2 figures might do til growth required farther division; but it is economy, and saves handling the books a 2d time, to use at least 3 figures at first, even in the smallest collection.

Familiarity with tables Get a general knowledge of the scheme by learning the 10 main classes (you will soon know the 100 divisions also without special study), so that you can tell to what subject a given number belongs from its first figure without referring to the tables. Familiarity with subdivisions will come gradually, but rapidly, from use. Using the tables alone, and then always verifying your result by the index, you will more rapidly learn the classification and gain facility in using it. To do this, decide first to which of the 10 classes the subject belongs; next, take that class as if there were no other, and decide to which of its 10 divisions the subject belongs; then in the same way select its section, thus running down your topic in its grooves, which become ten-fold narrower at each step.

Use of index As a check against error, use the index freely, even tho familiar with the scheme.

By consulting the index of the full classification, subjects omitted in this abridgment will be found assigned with allied subjects to the proper head. The full subject index will decide at once most doubtful points, and no topics omitted from the abridged tables and index should be numbered without such reference, as otherwise great annoyance may result from finding that the number used conflicts with that in the great mass of printed and manuscript catalogs, cards, indexes and other bibliographic aids arranged by this system.

Subject of a book To determine the subject of a book consult:

1 The title, since it is generally chosen to show what the book is about. But, as many titles are misleading, never class from title alone, but always examine also

2 Table of contents, which is the best guide to the true subject. If there is no table of contents read

3 Chapter heads or marginal topics.

4 Preface Unless already certain, glance thru preface to catch the author's point of view, and verify impressions gained from title and contents.

5 Reference books If preceding means fail, consult reliable bibliographies, class and annotated catalogs, biographic dictionaries, histories of literature, cyclopedias, reviews, etc. for information about the character of the book.

6 Subject matter If the 5 shorter methods above fail, examin the subject matter of the book itself, and if stil in dout, to avoid mistakes, put aside on an 'Under consideration' shelf til you can examin more thoroely or consult

7 Specialists Experts, competent to define true subject and relation, ar usually glad to examin any new books in their departments enuf to class them. Old ones they know where to put alreedy.

After deciding what the book is about, find this subject in the tables, either thru the index or by using the tables directly; e. g. Pollock's Land laws might naturally be clast from the tables alone as '333, Land; ownership; rights; rent,' which seems exactly to fit this book. But the index shows 2 numbers for land laws; viz, 347, from the legal, and 333, from the economic point of view. The object of this book, as seen in the preface, is to giv a popular presentation of English statutes pertaining to landholding, not to discuss the history and theory of land laws from the economist's point of view; so it should be clast '347 Realty,' which might hav been mist but for the index.

Assigning class numbers 1 Practical usefulness is the chief object. Put each book under the subject to the student of which it is most useful, unless local reasons 'attract' it to a place stil more useful in your library. See p. 8, § 7.

2 The content or real subject of a book, not the form or the accidental wording of its title, determins its place.

Therefore put a filosofy of art with Art, not with Filosofy; a history of mathematics with Mathematics, not with History; for filosofy or history is simply the form which these books hav taken. Their true content or subject is Art or Mathematics, and to the student of these subjects they ar the most useful.

3 Always remember that the question is not where one would probably look to find a particular book, but under what subject is the book of greatest value; e. g. it is of little consequence whether one would be apt to look under 595 for Darwin's Formation of vegetable mould, but of much consequence that one studying earthworms should find that book in 595 Worms, since it is chiefly valuable as a study of the habits of earthworms. Any one wanting that special book should look for it in the catalog under Darwin.

4 Assign every book to the most specific head that will contain it; i. e. do not mark all ancient history 930, but put history of ancient Rome in 937, of ancient Greece in 938, etc.

If there are only 10 books on a given subject it is useful to have them still farther grouped by topics or form of treatment, for otherwise, they have only accidental order, which serves no one. If a reader wishes a specific subject, he is sent instantly to the exact place by the subject index; if, however, he wishes a specific book, he should go, not to the shelves, but to the name catalog, where he can find its place quickest. If he wishes to study the library's resources at the shelves, he will be greatly helped by close classing.

Whether there are 1 or 1000 books on any topic, they take no more shelf space if classed minutely, and the work is done once for all. When large accessions come, even if a century later, this number will not have to be altered. In a relative location, the number of books you have on any subject has no special weight; any number of consecutive topics without a book yet in them, wastes no space on shelves, as the numbers are merely skipped. This plan not only does no harm, but has the considerable value of showing that you have nothing on the subject; a piece of information second in value only to finding something, for one need no longer search. It takes just as many figures to mark all mathematical works 510, costs just as much labor in most cases and, if one wants the one calculus in the whole library, he has to search thru the 150 volumes in 510, when he would find it instantly if marked 517.

5 The predominant tendency or obvious purpose of a book usually decides its class number at once. If, however, a book treats of 2 or more different subjects, assign it to the place where it will be most useful.

6 If 2 subjects have distinct page limitations, class under the first, unless the 2d is decidedly more important or much greater in bulk; i. e. always put a book under the first subject, unless there is good reason for entering it under another.

7 Consider not only scope and tendency of each book, but also the nature and specialities of each library.

Any subject on which a library specializes naturally attracts allied subjects; e. g. a book on fishing which an agricultural library puts under 639, has also a place in 799, where the sportsman wants it.

8 If a book treats of 4 or more sections of any division, give it the division number, instead of the most important section number; e. g. class a volume on light, heat and sound, under the head most fully discussed. But if it treats also of mechanics, class as 530, or general physics.

9 To secure uniformity, make notes for future reference of all difficulties and decisions; for it is even more important to put books on the same subject together than to put them in the absolutely correct place.

Such notes should be written either on the margins of the classification tables, or on an interleaved copy, or on standard-size slips arranged by class numbers. (See also p. 12, Index rerum)

10 Separate collected works, libraries, etc. and class the parts as independent works; or keep them together, and assign them like individual books to the most specific head that will contain them; or assign them to the most prominent of the various subjects of which they treat. Of these 3 plans the first is the best, unless the books are titled and volumed as a set.

11 Class translations, 'tales from,' reviews, keys, analyses, answers, and other books about a specific book with the original book, as being there most useful.

Book numbers With this abridgment the arrangement below of books in each class by author's surnames is recommended; tho some experienced library organizers strongly advise, as simpler and easier, omitting book numbers entirely and using author's surname in binder's title or written on label for arranging books on shelves and charging loans.

Under class number on back of each book put initial and first figure of its author's surname taken from Cutter or Cutter-Sanborn author tables; e. g. English history by Gardiner 942 G1. Use the same initial and figure for all books by the same author in any one class; e. g. if in class 942, History of England, Gardiner's Outline of English history were G1, Green's History of the English people would be G8, and Green's Short history would be G8s. On the shelf these books would then stand

GARDINER	GREEN	GREEN
Outline	History	Short history
942	942	942
G1	G8	G8s

Class and book number together make a short 'call number' identifying every book in the library. 942 G1 'calls' for Gardiner's Outline, as no other book in that library has exactly that number. A glance at the shelf list translates any call number into author and title. If any class outgrows this abbreviated plan do not hesitate to apply the full book number as given in the author table. Practis need not be uniform in all classes but exceptions should be plainly noted.

Biography book numbers To keep lives of the same person together, assign book numbers in individual biography from name of person written about insted of from name of writer. See notes to 920 in Tables.

Fiction numbers For fiction in English, omit the class number altogether and alfabet by authors' surnames. Number both fiction and biography by the Cutter (or Cutter-Sanborn) author table.

Class fiction in foren languages with the literature of its language; e. g. Hugo's Les miserables in French with 843, but put an English translation in its alfabetic place in unelast fiction.

Variations from printed scheme

1 Letter notations for changes Copyright does not allow printing our numbers with changed meanings. If you wish to alter them, ad a letter for your new meaning. But remember that this elementary form does not furnish data enuf for intelligent criticism. The subdivisions of the ful Classification make apparent many reasons which this abridgment can not show.

This plan of introducing letters or other symbols wherever each user pleases, wil giv all needed freedom to the personal equation and desire for originality, and meets all real wants for peculiar classification in peculiar cases.

Fiction As half the circulation in popular libraries is often fiction, omit the class number entirely and use merely the book number, as described on p. 9-10. No class number then means fiction in the English language, whether original or translated.

Juvenils Class juvenils exactly as if for adults, with J prefix to class number. In juvenil fiction prefix j (small) to prevent confusion with capital of book number; e. g. jJ6 Johnson's Williams of West Point. Then arrange juvenils in a parallel library by themselves, so that J942 comes between J941, juvenil history of Scotland, and J943, juvenil history of Germany.

Or put J books by themselves at the end of each class number; or put them in alfabetic order among other books on the same subject. In this last case J is useful only to call attention plainly to their juvenil character.

2 Broken order A common and often desirable variation for shelf arrangement is to break sequence of numbers, either to put books most used (fiction, juvenils, and biography) nearest the delivery desk; or to bring together Sociology (300) and History (900); Filology (400) and Literature (800). The strict theory is to keep the whole 1000 numbers in exact sequence; but a higher rule to be obeyd everywhere is to sacrifice any theory for a substantial gain. There need be no hesitation in breaking regular order if enuf is gaind, but posters or dummies and charts should show clearly where to find any group removed from its natural place; e. g. after 520 a dummy saying 'In observatory.'

Other uses

Scrapbooks Use scrap sheets of uniform size, with class number of subject written in upper front corner of the page. Mount clippings on the sheet as in a common scrapbook. When one sheet is full, insert another next it. Thus perfect classification is kept up without blank sheets, and at the smallest outlay of money and trouble. These sheets ar then arranged numericly like a clast card catalog, the sheets of each class being farther arranged, when required, under alfabetic subheds. Scraps thus mounted ar shelvd either in pamphlet cases or in patent binders, or ar kept in vertical files.

Index rerums These ar best made on the standard P size (7.5 x 12.5 cm) card or slip. Light weight catalog card stock is best for private indexes, etc. It costs only half as much as hevvy bristol and takes only half the room.

Where durability and convenience of handling ar less important than cheapness, common hevvy writing paper may be used; but most novises greatly diminish the usefulness of the card system by using ordinary machine-cut cards or slips varying in hight so much as to make quick and accurate manipulation impossible. The extreme variation that should be tolerated is 1 millimeter or  $\frac{1}{8}$  inch. This wil be understood by placing a 7.4 cm card between two 7.5 cm cards. The fingers make a bridge across the taller cards and miss the lower one entirely in rapid turning. Cards must be accurately cut or they wil lose half their value, and in many cases make it necessary to recopy the material at a cost tenfold greater than to hav thrown away at the outset the imperfectly cut cards or slips.

Class number is written in upper left corner, any alfabetic subject hed follows at the right, and notes fil the card below. The cards ar then filed in order of class numbers, the cards of each class being farther arranged, like the scrap sheets, according to alfabetic subheds. Paper the size of scrap sheets, 20 x 25 cm, arranged and stored the same way, may be used insted of cards. Scores of devices for convenient handling and storing of these slips and sheets and pamphlets ar manufactured. The full descriptiv and illustrated Library Bureau catalogs giv details.

Topical indexes D C class numbers ar used to index books red. The number takes the place of a series of words, and the results can be handled, arranged and found much quicker because of the simple numerals. Such entries may be kept separate or combined with the index rerum.

Modern

General works

010 Bibliography

Including both bibliographies and catalogs. Bibliographies show what books have been written by certain authors (011), or in certain countries (015), or on certain subjects (016), but often not what books there are in any one collection (Catalogs 017-019)

011 General bibliographies      Universal catalogs

Entries in author order; if in subject order class in 016

Properly a catalog is of a special collection and so tells where the works may be found. A bibliography disregards actual location and tells what there is, but its contents can seldom be found in any one library

012-016 include both bibliographies and catalogs. 017-019 is limited to catalogs of general collections

012 Of individuals

Alphabeted by subjects of bibliographies (bibliographees), not by compilers; e. g. Chaucer, Dante, Ruskin, etc. A bibliography of an individual may include either works about or by the individual, or both

013 Of special classes of authors

e. g. Jesuits, members of French academy, Yale alumni

014 Of special forms: anonyms, pseudonyms, etc.

e. g. Frey's Sobriquets and nicknames

015 Of special countries

Books published in the country. Publishers' lists, current publications. Bibliography of books published in England, as Lowndes or English catalog

The history of literature, i. e. belles lettres, poetry, drama, fiction, etc. goes, of course, with those topics in 800; but the literary history of any given place or period covering the writings on all subjects, as well as in literature, is bibliography, and goes usually in 015, tho the literary history of some special class of authors is 013

.7 American e. g. Publishers weekly, American catalog

016 Of special subjects

Put here also class bibliographies (e. g. ALA catalog) and catalogs of libraries on special subjects (026); but for other catalogs arranged by subjects, see 017 and 019

Bibliography of

- |    |                 |    |                                |

| .5 | Natural science |    | Including travel and biography |

017-019 Catalogs: library and sale

Class a catalog of any special subject, whether subject, author, or dictionary, under its subject number in 016, which is the ruling head wherever it conflicts with another. 017-019 therefore include only catalogs of general collections, limited to no one class or subject

017 Class catalogs: systematic or logical

Put any form of alphabetic subject catalog in 019. But put class bibliographies and catalogs of special subjects in 016

018 Author catalogs

See 011 for Bibliographies

Put author and class bound together in 017. 018 includes accession, chronologic, and any other forms (except subject and dictionary) of catalogs of collections

019 Dictionary catalogs: alfabetico-clast, etc.

020 Library economy

- .5 Periodicals
- .6 Societies, associations, clubs, conferences
- .62 Local clubs
- .7 Education Training Library schools

021 Scope, usefulness and founding of libraries

'People's university'; relations to clubs, etc. Also scope and founding of combined libraries and museums. Support, development

.3 Library in relation to schools and the young

This is mainly for relations of general public libraries to school work. Class a library owned by and kept at the school in 027.8. Class general work for children with children's libraries in 027.6

.8 Libraries and the state Library laws

State aid; subsidies, free importation, cheap postage, etc.

.9 Support, raising funds, etc.

For state aid separate from local help see 021.8

022 Buildings

See also 727 Architecture of educational buildings; but class library buildings here. For care of building, see 025.9

.4 Storage and shelving

.9 Fixtures, furniture, fittings

023 Government and servis

Charter, bylaws, trustees, librarian, staf; duties, pay, etc.

024 Rules for readers

Qualifications, fees or free use, library hours, reference use, loans, special privileges; injuries and abuses by readers

025 Administration Departments

025 is for the librarian's part. The trustees bild and furnish (022); make rules for government and servis (023), and rules for readers (024); but the administration involves questions of its own, which, however, ar closely allied to topics in 021-024 and elsewhere; e. g. the librarian must know his side of binding, and be able to giv proper directions and supervision, but need not know all the details of the binder's craft (686)

Administration includes .1 Supervision .2 Acquisition .3-6 Utilization .7-9 Preservation; i. e. the librarian's duty to books is to Get, Use, Keep

.1 Executiv General supervision

Finances, accounts, salaries (see 023); supplies, printing; publications, statistics, reports, bulletins; relations to readers, permits, privileges, visitors; correspondence

.2 Accession Acquisition

Selecting and buying books, serials, pamphlets, efemera; prices, discounts, duty free importation (see 337. ); auctions, old book lists; sale duplicates, exchanges, gifts (see also 021.9); reception, checking bills, collation; plating, pocketing, embossing, private marking; accessioning; order slips, index and book, order and serial blanks

.3 Catalog

For printed catalogs themselves, see 017-019. This is for cataloging
Printed, manuscript, or card; author, subject, title, clast; dictionary or combined; Cooperativ rules; size notation; cooperativ cataloging; duplicated titles, print or fotografy; mechanical accessories, cards, cases and fittings, drawers, trays, blocks, checks, guides, labels

.4 Classification

For filosofic classification of knowledge, see 112 Methodology. This is for practical classing of books, pamphlets, and notes, rather than theoretic speculation
On shelves; in catalogs; in dictionary catalogs; systems of notation, figures, letters, symbols, combined; importance and advantages; difficulties; close vs broad classing; mnemonic features; basis of division; coordination of special subjects

GENERAL WORKS

025.5

Reference      Reference books      Aids to readers

See 028 for general discussion of reading and aids. This is limited to library administration

Loan

See also 024 for Rules

Indicators; charging systems, ledgers vs cards; book cards, marks, pockets; call slips; readers cards; notices, reserves; registers; interlibrary loans; mechanical accessories; slip cases, trays, tils, stamps, etc.

.7

Binding and repair

See also 686 Bookbinding

Materials, durability, tight vs spring backs, sewing, color, lettering; paper covers and temporary binders; restoring, mending, cleaning; and oiling

.8

Shelf

See also 022.9 Shelving

Arrangement; shelf numbers; shelf and book labels; fix and relativ locations; sizes on shelves; arrangement and preservation of public documents, pamphlets, papers, manuscripts, maps, drawings, and plans, music, broadsides, clippings; injuries, heat, gas, insects; stocktaking; shelf lists

.9

Bilding      Care, cleaning, safety      Janitor      Police

See 022 for bilding and fittings. This is janitor's department

Libraries on special subjects

Histories, reports, statistics, bulletins, handbooks, circulars, and everything about the library not more required in one of the sections above; e. g. a Medical library, a Chess library; but the catalog of a Chess library is 016.7; blanks, etc. from any library go in 025, as more used in studying topics

General libraries

This includes both circulating and reference; i. e. all not limited to special subjects. A private library is still class 027.1, after it has been sold or merged in a public library. But reports of a society library changed to a free public should class in 027.4 after the change; and if not too much earlier material already on the shelves, change all to new number insted of making cross reference

Private and family

Proprietary: society, club, atheneum

.2 is limited to libraries that ar semi-private, requiring an election for admission, while .3 includes all open to any one on payment of a fee. It is the difference between a club and a hotel. .3 is for libraries run as a business. A mercantil library, even tho it has endowments, if open without individual election, goes in .3 as a subsidized public subscription library. Many private subscription libraries go in .2

.3

Subscription      Circulating

Mudie's, Booklovers, etc.

.4

Free public      Rate supported      Endowd

Public library commissions. See also 331.8, and 027 last note

.5

State and government

For special classes

Institution, prison, reformatory, asylum, blind, monastic, workmen, factory, railroad, sailors, lighthouse. A workmen's library of books on engineering goes in 026, not here, as the subject is more useful than the class of readers

.7

College

.8

School      Sundayschool      Parish

See also 371.6 Libraries as school equipment; 021.3 Library in relation to schools and the young; 028.5 Reading of the young

.5 Reading of young Juvenils Storytelling
Both discussion and lists of books

029 Literary methods and labor savers

Much in 025 and 028 belongs equally under 029 in its full meaning, but practical convenience is best served by keeping such material under those heads instead of separating a part here

030 General cyclopedias

Subdivisions of 030-070 are by language, not by country; i. e. a French newspaper published in New York, e. g. Le courrier des Etats-Unis, is 074, not 071

040 General collected essays

Bound pamphlets (essays, addresses, etc.), scrapbooks, etc. too general for any one class
041 American, 042 English, etc. like 031, 032, etc.

050 General periodicals, magazines

051 American, e. g. Atlantic, Century, Harper's, Scribner's; 052 English, e. g. Atheneum, Blackwood's, Contemporary; like 031, 032, etc.

060 General learned societies, transactions

061 American; 062 English, like 031, 032, etc., except use 068 for Other languages instead of limiting it to Scandinavian

069 Museums Museum economy

070 General newspapers Journalism

- 080 Polygrafy      Special libraries
 Including sets or 'libraries' so constituted as not to be redily scatterd by subjects, and miscellaneous information; but class in 803 literary questions and answers, even tho not alfabetic. Collections conditiond by terms of gift on being kept together ar better clast as a parallel library distinguisht by a letter; e. g. the Doc collection D010-D999
- 081 Individual polygrafy
 Complete or partial collections of an author's works, treating of various subjects. If they treat exclusively or mainly of one subject they ar clast with that subject
- 082 Collectiv polygrafy
 Distinct works of several authors, treating of different subjects and publisht in a collection
- 083 Official publications
 Official publications of countries, states, provinces, cities and other public bodies and powers may be clast together here but ar much better clast with subject treated of, if too general for that, with body by which issued
- 087 Publications for various classes of readers
 Children's collections may be clast here but ar much better kept as a separate collection markt J, the separate books being given their regular subject numbers (see paragraf relating to Juvenils, in Introduction, p. 11)
- 090 Book rarities
 For books about these topics, and those chiefly valuable because of their rarity; but class a rare early edition of Shakspere in 822.3
- 091 Manuscripts      Autografs
 Class in 096 mss important chiefly for illumination. Fotografs of mss, when more valuable for subject matter, go with subject rather than here. For diplomatics and paleografy, see 417, and special languages, 421, 431, etc.
- 092 Block books
- 093 Books printed before 1500      Incunabula
- 094 Rare printing
 Aldines, Elzevirs, Caxtons, etc.; privately printed or unique books
- 095 Rare binding
 By noted binders, with costly ornament, curious bindings
- 096 Rare illustrations or materials
 Illuminated. Illustrated by inserted plates. Printed on vellum, silk, bark, etc., in gold or silver letters, etc.
- 097 Ownership      Book plates      Ex libris
 Noted or rare. See also 025.2
- 098 Other classes of works, based on inner characteristics
 Prohibited, lost, imaginary, etc.
- 099 Other classes of works, based on outer characteristics
Curiosa
 Minute size, etc.

- .2 Legends, tales, traditions
 Legends of Charlemagne, Faust, Renard the Fox, etc. But poems, dramas, etc. based on these legends class in literature
- .3 Folklore, traditional beliefs and customs, popular superstitions
 Origin and explanation of Christmas, New Year, Easter, etc. beliefs and practises
- .4 Fairies, elvs, ogers, monsters, etc.
 Bogies, gnomes, dragons, vampires, werewolvs
- 399 Customs of war
 Weapons. War dances. Treatment of captivs. Scalping. Mutilation. Burning. Cannibalism

Filology

400 Filology in general

The general works put under 400-419 deal almost entirely with Indo-European languages. They are put here because they cover most of the divisions of this class, and in practice are most convenient here. Under 439, 479, and 489 are at least books limited to the Teutonic, Romance or Hellenic groups, and under 491 at least only works dealing mainly with the Indo-European languages there specified.

401 Philosophy, origin of language; 402 Compendia, outlines, like 101, 102, etc. Class universal language, e. g. Volapük, Esperanto, in 408.

410 Comparativ

410-419 includes comparativ works in general and also those on the Indo-European group in general, but general and comparativ works on Teutonic group at 439; on Romance group, 479; on Hellenic group, 489. Put everything about an individual language with that language.

411 Orthography Orthoepy Alfabet

412 Etymology Derivation

413 Dictionaries Lexicography

414 Phonology Visible speech

415 Grammar Morphology Syntax

416 Prosody

417 Inscriptions Paleography

Rare early manuscripts are put in 001; inscriptions of an individual language at least with its orthography; Latin inscriptions, 471; Greek inscriptions, 481, etc.

418 Texts

419 Hieroglyphics Sign language

See also 493 Egyptian hieroglyphics

420 English filology

421 Orthography

See also this head treated in general grammars at least under 425

422 Etymology Derivation

422 is limited to derivation. For inflection, also called etymology, see 425

423 Dictionaries Idioms

Put a dictionary of 2 languages with the less known language. Under 423 put only English-English dictionaries. Put an English-French dictionary with French, 443; a French-Latin dictionary with Latin, 473. If in several languages, put with 413, or with least known. This plan brings together under each of the less known, all the dictionaries for translating either into or from that language. Some prefer to put each dictionary under the first language; i. e. that by which it is alphabeted. This gives under each language, regardless of its familiarity, all dictionaries for translating from it, but none for translating into it. These must be sought under the language from which the translation is to be made. For a cosmopolitan library this plan is simplest and best; but in an English library, the first plan, with only English dictionaries in 423, and both in and out dictionaries together under little known tongues, is more convenient. References in either case show what may be found in the other place.

669 Metallurgy and assaying

History of metals goes here, not in 553, 622 nor 671

670 Manufactures

Specific topics go where of most interest. These heds ar for the general subject of metal, wood, etc. manufactures, and for such specific manufactures as ar not of more interest elsewhere. But a specific manufacture is commonly most useful with its own subject; e. g. a steam engin is certainly made of metal, but its manufacture should go under 621.1, not 672. Character of the library often decides the place of greatest interest. An agricultural library would prefer the manufacture and everything about wood churns with the dairy, 637, while a manufacturing library might prefer it with other wood manufactures in 674. A general library wil incline to the special subject, as a more minute classification is thus obtained, and catalog references answer inquiries for all the library has on brass or rubber or paper manufactures. Whether groupd by use or material, if sought from the other standpoint, references show the resources promptly. As a rule the use is the better classification, being more minute and oftener wanted. But if uses ar various the general hed is better; e. g. bels ar for scores of distinct uses, but their manufacture is a unit; but all churns ar for the dairy

History

900 History in general

901-909 all have History in general as their subject, but it is treated in these various forms. A periodical on English history goes with 942, not 905, which is only for periodicals on history in general. 901 Philosophy, history of civilization; 902 Compendia (e. g. Ploetz's Epitome) chronologies, charts, outlines, like 101, 102, etc. but use 909 for universal and general modern histories.

For chronology as a science, see 529

HOW TO USE THIS INDEX

Find the subject wanted in its alfabetic place in the index. The number after it is its class number and refers to the place where the topic will be found, in numeric order of class numbers, on the shelvs, shelf lists, or in the clast catalog, if used. All class numbers ar decimal; e. g. 914.29 travel in Wales, comes before 914.3 travel in Germany, and both of them before 915 travel in Asia. Printed labels on the shelvs or drawer fronts guide redily to the class number sought.

Under this class number wil be found the resources of the library on the subject desired. Other adjoining subjects may often be profitably consulted; e. g. a description of Niagara Falls is wanted and the index refers to 917.47, but much on this topic is likely also to be found in 917.4 (travel in north Atlantic states) and even in 917.3 (travel in United States).

This index contains in a single alfabet all subjects named in the tables, together with their synonyms and such other topics as ar thought most likely to be needed by libraries using this abridgment.

If nothing is found on the shelvs under a number, it shows that the library does not yet possess any book on that topic.

It does not include

all names of places, minerals, plants, diseases, etc.; but givs only those used in these tables and a farther selection of the most common and useful. It is not a biografic dictionary, and givs no names of persons as biografic heds, but only such as appear in connection with some subject like literature or history.
